LEARNING OBJECTIVES

The participants will:

- Better understanding and recent advances and clinical management of common adult pulmonary, sleep, and critical care diseases in order to facilitate better patient care and compliance.
- Appreciate the prevalence and impact of sleep disorders in the growing population.
- Better understand the co morbidities and impact on treatment of sleep disorders.

NEEDS ASSESSMENT

Currently, primary care providers have limited knowledge of guidelines and treatments for patients with pulmonary and sleep disorders. In an effort to optimize their knowledge and understanding of these issues our goal is to address current guidelines and new treatment approaches. The activity will increase knowledge of the initial steps in understanding and managing common concerns in relation to the need for referral to pulmonary, sleep, and critical care specialists. In addition, current therapeutic modalities available to this population of patients will be addressed.

TARGET AUDIENCE

Primary Care Physicians, Pulmonary Physicians and Fellows, Critical Care Physicians, Sleep Medicine Physicians, Internists, Physician Assistants, Nurse Practitioners, Nurses, Respiratory Therapists, Pharmacists, Respiratory Researchers, Sleep Technologists, Students in Allied Fields and Physicians in Training. The target is regional, covering the southwest region of the U.S.

CONTINUING EDUCATION

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the accreditation requirements and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint providership of the American Thoracic Society and the New Mexico Thoracic Society. The American Thoracic Society is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The American Thoracic Society designates this live activity for a maximum of 8.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

The New Mexico Society for Respiratory Care approves this educational event for a maximum of 8 clock hours of CEU. The course number is 20170104001. Respiratory Therapists should only claim credit commensurate with their participation in the activity.

The American Association of Sleep Technologists designates this educational activity for a maximum of __ hours of AAST Continuing Education Credits. Individual should claim only those credits that he/she actually earned in the educational activity.

DOOR PRIZES

Thank you to those who donated the door prizes displayed in the Cancun Ballroom.

Conference participants may view exhibits before each session, during lunch and during breaks.

ABOUT THE SOCIETY

This is the 45th Annual New Mexico Lung Disease Symposium for physicians and members of the pulmonary, critical care, and sleep community in New Mexico. The purpose of this program is to educate primary care practitioners, pulmonary, sleep, critical care practitioners and health care professionals about recent advances in epidemiology, pathology, physiology, and medical management of patients with pulmonary, sleep, and critical care disorders. Educational topics were chosen by the planning committee based on local expert opinion, recommendations from the 44th annual symposium, review of recent topics presented, recent advances in the field, and pertinent literature review.
